DETAILS:

By communication received February 12, 1973, the New York Office advised that THOMAS KING FORCADE had appeared before U.S. Magistrate SOL SCHREIBER in the Southern District of New York, New York City, on February 12, 1973. Subject waived removal hearing and a $50,000.00 personal recognizance bond was set with the stipulation that $2,500.00 surety be placed.

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

At the time, FORCADE's bail limited him to New York City with the requirement that he submit himself to the U.S. Attorney, Miami, Florida, on February 15, 1973, at 11:00 AM. He was then released on bail.

LOCAL CHARGES PENDING AGAINST FORCADE.

Clerk, Dade County Jail records, advised the following on February 13, 1973, concerning local charges pending against THOMAS FORCADE.

August 23, 1972, on the authority of a $50.00 bench warrant for a traffic violation. After he was incarcerated, an additional bond of $125.00 was added for traffic violations committed on August 23, 1972. A third bond of $1,000.00 was also added on August 24, 1973, as a result of a Grand Larceny charge. In summary, FORCADE was in custody under three bonds: a traffic violation for $50.00, another traffic violation for $125.00 and a Grand Larceny charge for $1,000.00.

b6 b7C

MM 100-16625

FORCADE was bonded out of the Dade County Jail on August 24, 1972, by a bondsman for the Allegheny Mutual Casualty Company, 439 Alton Road, Miami Beach, Florida.
Regarding the Grand Larceny charge, Clerk, Criminal Division, Dade County Circuit Court, advised on February 13, 1973, that FORCADE was a co-defendent in case #72-6162, for Grand Larceny resulting from the theft of a life-size poster of President LYNDON JOHNSON. This case was nolle prossed before Judge ROWE on October 24, 1972, due to the fact that no representative of the State appeared in court.

Regarding the traffic citations mentioned above against FORCADE, Clerk, Dade County Traffic Court, advised on February 13, 1973, that there were presently four bench warrants outstanding against FORCADE. These warrants are numbered as follows:

- 1. A 849 964
- 2. F 605 377
- 3. F 605 378
- 4. F 503 502

Regarding the above bench warrants,

Clerk, Bench Warrant Section, Dade County Traffic Court, on February 13, 1973, advised that warrant A 849 964 was issued on June 24, 1972, to FORCADE for disobeying a traffic signal.

The original court date for this ticket was set for July 24, 1972. FORCADE did not show up in court on that date, therefore, a $50.00 bench warrant was issued. FORCADE was arrested on August 23, 1972, on the authority of this bench warrant and posted a $50.00 surety bond. A new court date was set for this violation on September 12, 1972. FORCADE also failed to show up for this court date and the bond reverted to the court.
As a result of this, a second bench warrant was issued for $100.00 and as of February 15, 1973, was still outstanding.

Concerning warrants F 605 377 and 378 and F 503 502, advised the following:

F 605 377 wasissued to FORCADE on August 23, 1972, for improper change of lane. F 605 378 was issued on August 23, 1972, for impeding traffic. F 503 502 was issued on July 13, 1973, for directing or permiting operation of a vehicle in an unlawful manner. The three above warrants, along with F 605 379, issued on August 23, 1972, for no valid driver's license, were scheduled for court on September 7, 1972. FORCADE appeared in court on September 7, 1972, at which time warrant F 605 379 was dismissed as he was able to produce a driver's license. However, on the other three warrants FORCADE was issued a fine of $60.00 and court costs of $18.00, for a total of $78.00. At that time FORCADE told the Judge that he had no money and the Judge gave FORCADE until September 22, 1972 to pay the fine.

As of February 15, 1973, the fines were still outstanding and as a result three additional bench warrants or committal orders were issued against FORCADE.

AUSA pointed out during FORCADE's arraignment that these four warrants were outstanding. The U.S. Magistrate took note and held FORCADE subsequent to the arraignment in order that Dade County authorities might serve the warrants on FORCADE.

On February 16, 1973, Metro Warrants
Section, Dade County, Florida, advised that the warrants were not executed against FORCADE in view of the minor nature of these offenses and also in view of the fact that FORCADE's attorney, guaranteed that FORCADE would appear in traffic court' on February 16, 1973, to settle the fines outstanding against him.

Two Antiwar Figures

Face Firebomb Charges

By Paul W. Valentine Washington Post Staff Writer

Tom Forcade, anarchist, Yippy and cryptic figure of the antiwar movement, has been indicted by a federal grand jury on charges of possessing firebombs during the Republican National Convention in Miami Beach in August.

Forcade, 27, and close associate Cindy (Anastasia) Ornsteen, 24, were arrested by FBI agents Saturday in New York and released on $50,000 personal recognizance bonds Mon-

Both were charged with possessing an unspecified number: illegal incendiary devices, usisting of cans with a wax-mixture of potassium niand sugar with match nserted in the mixture, g to FBI in New York: ndictment, returned y in Miami, does not say what the alleged to bombs were intended for: 3. EBI spokesman in New York said the devices were observed on a truck used by Forcade in Miami Beach on Aug. 23, the last day of the Republican National Convention.

Forcade, nominal chief of the Zippy faction of the Youth International Party (YIPPY), was a key figure in anti-Nixon demonstrations during the convention and led marches and rallies throughout Miami Beach.

Forcade could not be reached for comment yesterday, but a Zippy associate,

A.J. Weberman of New York, called the indictment a "total frame-up.

He said Forcade used a flatbed sound truck during the convention "and kept cans of gasoline on it to power the sound generator . . . That's what this thing's all about."

Weberman said the indict-ment was a "cover-up for Watergate," a reference to the recent Watergate bugging trial here. The Watergate defendants "were looking for violence" within the antiwar movement "but couldn't find any" to discredit the McGovern presidential campaign and its dovish-ness on the Vietnam war Weberman said.

"So they framed Tom," Weberman said.

During the Watergate trial. former Nixon re-election committee official Jeb Stuart Magruder testified that defendant G. Gordon Liddy headed a $100,000 spy network to gather intelligence about protest demonstrations planned for the Republican convention in San Diego before it was switched to Miami Beach, The operation, he said, was to include payment to some 10 college-age informers to infiltrate the Yippy and other protest organizațions.

During the Miami Beach convention, Forcade, warring with other protest factions, led his own ragged segment of assorted "street freaks" in a number of desultory marches and rallies. They were generally nonviolent but often irreverent with some participants burning flags, stripping nude or urinating in public as gestures of protest.

Forcade and Cindy Ornsteen were arrested Saturday at 204 W. 10th St. in New York, the office of the Underground Press Syndicate, a loose consortium of anti-Estab lishment writers and organizers

	11/22/72
[Maitland, Florida, furnished the following information: On or about Wednesday August 23, 1972, TOMAS KING b70 FORCADE was arrested by Midwi Deach, Plorida Police on a traffic violation for operating a vehicle without a license.
	The arrest took place on Maridian Avenue wear the Republican National Convention Hall in Miami Beach, Florida.
,	FORCADE was driving a 20 foot open flat-bod Ford truck which had been rented by from the hyder Truck Rental in Miami, Florida. The truck contained a 6,000 white portable electric generator which had also been rented by NAMEY from the Mertz Equipment Rentals located near the above truck routal agency in Miami. The generator was being used to supply electric power for amplifying equipment being utilized on the truck by a rock and roll music group.
	The truck was occupied by FORCADE and more than 20 other individuals which included a small rock and roll music group known as "The Gooks," and about 20 members of the Zippies who were carrying Zippie flags mounted on about 3 foot sticks. The three members of the rock and roll group were not affiliated with the Zippies, but were just musicians.
-	The truck was on Meridian Avenue approaching the convention hall area and it was bound for the Washington Street staging area for a demonstration which was forming in connectical with the convention when it encountered numerous police in that area. The police ordered the truck to stop. The police demands the individuals carrying the Lippie flags to turn them over to the police. One person on the truck momentarily refused to comply, but it was immediately announced over the truck's amplifying equipment that the group should turn the flags over to the police as they only wanted the sticks. The group complied and turned the sticks over to the police averting a confrontation. Approximately 30 or more of the police were involved in this event, but it was estimated that hurdreds of police were in the immediate area. After surructing the sticks to the police, a search was made of the truck by the police. One of the police officers took the five gallon gasoline can which was utilized for fuel for the portable generator and poured it out onto the street. The gasoline was poured onto two rells of toilet paper, the origin of which was unknown as they were not known to have been on the truck. One of the policemen then picked up the gasoline souked toilet paper making the compent "Look what we've got here, firebombs." Meanwhile, some of the other police officers were searching the cab of the truck and TOM FORCADE. There were no other instruments found which could be considered weapons, explosives, slingshots, fireworks, or other such paraphernalia.

The police were about to release the group when one of the policemen remarked "Aw, wait a minute, lock what we've got here, no license." They then arrested TOM FORCADE and another individual in the group for operating the veicle without a license. The other individual, had nothing to do with the Eippies, but was involved as a stage had nothing to do with the Eippies, but was involved as a stage set-up man for the rock and roll group. did in fact have a license with him which he subsequently produced to the judge and the charge against him was dishissed.

The police asked who the truck belonged to and produced the rental papers for the truck and his identification whereupon the police then released the group with the exception of FORCADE and who were taken to the police station on the charge of operation a vehicle without a license.

There had been no plans made to use the gasoline as an incendiary device and there were no plans for confrontation of violence on the occasion of the above incident. TOM FORCADE had not been known to demonstrate any propensity for violence.

The FBI Laboratory furnished the following information as to the results of the examination of the four items submitted:

To: SAC, Miami

notionae king forcade sn – ra (extremist) national firearme act Date: FBI File No.

October 31, 1972 100-469538 PC-J2184 JA MV LD

Specimens received 10/12/72:

Q1 Fluid from can
Q2 Can containing wax and black wick
Q3 Can containing a waxlike substance and thirteen matches
Q4 Can containing a waxlike substance and five matches

Result of examination:

The Ql fluid was identified as gasolino.

The contents of the Q2 can were found to be wax containing a charred stick wrapped in paper as a wick. No incendiary chemicals were found mixed with the wax.

The waxlike substance present in specimens Q3 and Q4 is a mixture of potassium nitrate and sugar. Materials such as these are combustible and easily ignited with a violent spontaneous reaction.

On October 25, 1972, a Laboratory explosives specialist tested a sample of the mixture from specimen Q3 and a sample of the mixture from specimen Q4. Both mixtures were ignited with a match and burned. The mixture from specimen Q4 burned more intensely than did the mixture from specimen Q3.

Based on the above tests, the Q3 and Q4 devices could be used as incendiary devices to ignite combustible materials in contact with the incendiary mixtures.

MM 100-16625 MM 100-17062 FBI Laboratory reflected the Allstate motor oil can had contained gasoline and that the other three items in effect contained incendiary material. On 2/8/73 a sealed secret indiction returned against both subjects charging them with kinds possessing destructive devices commonly known as firebonks consisting of cans with a wax-like mixture of potassium nitrate and sugar with matches inserted in the mixture. This was count #1. Count #2 charged both subjects with the same thing only stated they had not been registered in the National Firearms registration and transfer record as It is noted that a latent fingerprint examination had not been previously requested in view of the fact that Crime Laboratory, Bomb Section, Dade County Public Safety Department, Miami, Florida, who had obtained possession of the items from the arresting officer, indicated numerous persons had handled these items and he did not know all of their identities and he believed any fingerprint examination would be fruitless. In view of the fact that subjects have been indicted and will probably be brought to trial, the following items are being submitted for latent fingerprint examination: 1. A can of "Allstate motor oil" empty. 2. A small can with a wax-like substance and a type of black wick. Can has a paper wrapper "Sunshine Green Beans with Potatoes". and measures about $4\frac{1}{2}$ " tall. 3. A small can with a wax-like substance with 13 matches inserted in the substance with heads of matches sticking out. Can measures about $4\frac{1}{2}$ " tall. Small can with wax-like substance and 5 matches inserted in substance measuring about 3" tall. It is to be noted that the subjects were arrested by FBI Agents in New York on 2/10/73 and arraigned in that city on 2/12/73. 2 -

MM 100-16625 MM 100-17062 It is requested that this be handled expeditiously in view of the fact that it is possible an early trial date may be set. The Latent Fingerprint Section is requested to examine all items for latent fingerprints and compare them with the fingerprints of THOMAS KING FORCADE, FBI #125984H and CINDY ORNSTEEN, aka Anastasia Sirroco, DOB 9/5/46, POB Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, who was arrested by FBI in New York City on 2/10/73. ALL INDIVIDUALS INVOLVED IN NEW LEFT EXTREMIST ACTIVITIES SHOULD BE CONSIDERED DANGEROUS BECAUSE OF THEIR KNOWN ADVOCACY AND USE OF EXPLOSIVES, REPORTED ACQUISITION OF FIREARMS AND INCENDIARY DEVICES AND KNOWN PROPENSITY FOR VIOLENCE.

Apartment was advised of the identities of the interviewing Special Agents by the showing of their credentials. He was advised that the nature of the interview was to develop information concerning an incident which occurred on August 23, 1972, in Miami Beach, Florida, at which time the Miami Beach Police Department had detained a truck in which i.e, THOMAS KING FORCADE, CINDY ELIZABETH ORNSTEEN, and others were riding.

advised that he and his family traveled to the State of Florida in July, 1972 for the purpose of participating in demonstrations at both the Demogratic and Republican National Conventions in Miami Beach, Florida. They stopped at both Saint Augustine and Daytona Beach Florida for a few days on the way. He and his family arrived in Miami Beach on the day before the Democratic Convention, that being July 9, 1972. He located his family in Flamingo Fark which had been set aside for demonstrators by the City of Miami Beach. advised that he and his family stayed in Miami Beach after the Democratic National Convention for the purpose of helping to coordinate protest demonstrations for the forthcoming Republican National Convention, between August 21-25, 1972.

During the conventions he aligned himself with the aims and beliefs of the Zips that were in Florida to demonstrate.

b7C

On August 23, 1972, which was the last day of the Republican Convention, he accompanied FORCADE, CINDY ORNSTEEN and five members of the "Gooks," musical group from Orlando, Florida, on a flat bed truck from the YIP headquarters in Coconut Grove, Florida to the Convention site on Washington Street in Miami Beach. FORCADE was driving the truck with ORNSTEEN and another individual who's first name was in the cab. On the back of the truck were himself and five members of the "Gooks" who had set up a band to play at the Convertion site and to help coordinate protest demonstrations. The band was playing musical instruments while FORCADE drove around the Convention site. He knew that the police would eventually stop the truck due to the noise they were making.

Just before dusk around 5:00 PM, the Miami Beach police did stop the truck and surrounded it with police cars. FORCADE was arrested by the police for not having a driver's license.

Several officers removed everything from the back of the truck, including himself, the musicans, their musical instruments, a generator to run the amplifiers, a five gallon can of gasoline used to run the amplifiers, and several protest flags on poles. He was standing next to the five gallon can of gasoline when the police removed it.

As he jumped off the truck he saw ORNSTEEN standing next to the right front door of the truck. A police officer had a large metal can in his hands. The can appeared to him to contain a candle which had a cigarette crushed out on the top of it. It appeared to him that the police officer had removed the candle from the side of the truck on which ORNSTEEN was riding. As the police officer looked at the candle he heard the officer state "this looks like a bomb."

At this point the police took FORCADE away. He and everyone else returned to the truck. _____ then drove the truck to Flamingo Park where the group fixed their musical instruments and amplifiers back together on the truck. One of the other YIP members went to get more gasoline to drive the generator for the amplifiers. He heard at that time that the police had also removed three rolls of toilet paper and the candle from the cab of the truck. At no time did he know of the candle or the toilet paper being on the truck previous to the police stopping them. After the group got all their things together again on the truck, they drove back to the Convention site where they parked the truck on the front lawn, on Washington Street. Shortly thereafter the truck and several hundred demonstrators who had gathered were sprayed with teargas by the Police Department.

At that time he left the Convention site and he and his family returned to NYC shortly thereafter.

He continued his friendship with FORCADE and ORNSTEEN. Both he and FORCADE are presently close friends and often confide in each other concerning their political beliefs. He further stated that FORCADE works out of the Underground Press Syndicate at 204 West 10th Street, NYC; however, he does not reside at that address. FORCADE resides with different friends on a transient basis.
